DEAR CLERK:

I am writing to inform you/court that I am no longer in the United States and that I was forcefully put on the plane and deported to Jamaica on May 27, 2004.

I have shown the immigration official my pending court case there and they say that they don't care about it and they are still going to deport me, and I must fight my case from Jamaica. I didn't sign any paper to be deported, my finger-print was forcefully taken after being restrained in leg-iron/handcuff and rough up by four immigration officers in the southern detention in Boston, MA.

I still wish to pursue my case there because justice was denied me and my family there is having a hard time with me not there to help them, especially my children.

I thank you for your time, I await your reply.

Respectfully Submitted
Spence, Martin
